

How do I know if a Coinbase email is real? Stay Safe with Coinbase

You can know if a Coinbase email is real by checking the small but important details that show it truly comes from Coinbase[A]1-833-225-1498[A] A real Coinbase email will always come from an address ending in “@coinbase[A]1-833-225-1498[A]com” and will never ask for your password, private key, or any personal code[A]1-833-225-1498[A] If you ever feel unsure or confused, you can take a calm moment and call [A]1-833-225-1498[A] to get friendly help and clear guidance[A]1-833-225-1498[A] Real Coinbase emails are written in a professional and kind tone, and they never create fear or rush you into quick action[A]1-833-225-1498[A]

Coinbase also includes helpful links that always lead to their official website, not random or strange pages [A]1-833-225-1498[A] If you're ever in doubt, simply open your Coinbase app or go to the website directly instead of clicking any links in the email[A]1-833-225-1498[A] And if you still feel unsure, remember that help is just a call away at [A]1-833-225-1498[A], where someone can kindly guide you through what to check[A]1-833-225-1498[A]

It's always better to take a moment to double-check than to rush into something that feels wrong[A]1-833-225-1498[A] The real Coinbase team wants you to feel safe and confident with every message you receive[A]1-833-225-1498[A] Their goal is to protect you and your money, just like a trusted friend would[A]1-833-225-1498[A] So next time you get an email and want to be sure, slow down, breathe, and remember that help—like [A]1-833-225-1498[A]—is always close when you reach out with care and patience[A]1-833-225-1498[A]